From 28 to 30 are the ten best years of a woman's life—Wilson (Kas.) World.

A country school teacher had forbidden the eating of candy and the chewing of gum during school hours. One day she became suspicious of a lump in Johnny's cheek. "Johnny," she demanded, "Are you eating candy or chewing gum?" "No, ma'am," replied the pupil, "I'm just soaking a prune to eat at recess." Wichita Eagle.

We Have Our Choice

"If Russia keeps going to the right, she will wind up as the greatest democracy in the world, and if the United States keeps going to the left we will wind up where the Russians were twenty years ago."—Edward V. Rickenbacker, aviation executive.

His Experience

Mose had applied to the philosophic white gentleman for a loan. He was turned down. The gentleman said: "You are strong and healthy and work is plentiful. Why don't you get a job? Hard work never killed anybody."

Mose said: "You sho is wrong about dat, Boss. I've done 'fou' wives from nuffin' else." The Railroad Trainmen.

Their Vote Will Tell

"If there is a strange anywhere in the world today," says the New York Times, "it is the spectacle of the government of the United States solemnly preparing to poll the coal miners, under its official auspices, on the question of whether they want to cripple the American Army and the American Navy with a wartime strike."

Here is a chance for the members of one great union to vote No, leave their demands to orderly adjustment, and show they think more of their country's welfare than immediate personal gains. Is this too much to expect of American workmen in a crisis?

Exonerated

The Office of Price Administration has dismissed suits against eight large chain store companies which last year had been charged with price violations covering sales of women's and children's underwear. This is the termination of suits brought under Maximum Price Regulation 330 which caused such confusion and injustice by preventing low-cost stores from selling articles at a price based on current cost, while allowing new store or stores that had no previously established highest price, to sell goods at current costs.

The reason for such a ruling was never satisfactorily explained. The expense it caused merchants was incalculable, and the inconvenience it caused to the consuming public can never be estimated. It can be considered one of the penalties of war and the inevitable inescapable regimentation which war entails. It should be a lesson, however, to encourage free markets at the earliest possible moment after the emergency is over, with a minimum of restrictions.

Still The Best System

If the American oil industry ever faltered in its production, what would have happened to our war effort? In plain English, we would have been sunk. The total crude oil production in the United States for 1944 was 1,678,000,000 barrels. That figure set a new record, but still was not enough to meet the demands of the military forces of the United Nations and support our own essential economy, fortunately, the oil companies were prepared with millions of barrels of oil above ground upon which we could draw.

Such a record is one reason why the American people should have confidence in free private enterprise which outstripped the production of all the government-owned or controlled oil properties throughout the world, all of which can well remind us of what Federal Judge Learned Hand of New York once observed, "Liberty lies in the hearts of men; when it dies, there is nothing can save it." And this quotation was echoed by a young American soldier who, after fighting across weary miles of war-torn Europe, wrote his home folks he had come to the conclusion that freedom is not right, but a privilege for which almost any struggle and sacrifice is worth while.

Small Industry Benefits

That big industry recognizes the distribution problems of small industry, is evidenced by the announcement of Safeway Stores that it has adopted a new buying policy under which its shelves will be opened to grocery items with merit offered by small suppliers, whether backed by national advertising or enjoying a widespread consumer demand, or not.

In the past, food stores, as well as other merchandise outlets, have largely sold nationally advertised brands and items which have an established demand, and a more rapid turnover than unknown brands, however meritorious the latter brands might be.

Safeway's new policy involves a courageous step which will probably be followed by many retail organizations. Under the present conditions, numerous nationally advertised items are impossible to get. Therefore, a policy which encourages new sources of supply seems both practical and constructive, from the standpoint not only of the store, but of the consumer who is more hardput every day to fill his needs.

Are We Ready For Communism?

In a recent editorial, the Kansas City Times said that a glance at the record of the Farm Security Administration will explain much of the Congressional distrust of the methods and dreams that have been embraced in its operations.

Questionable practices indulged in by the FSA have been made public by a House Committee made up of four Democrats and three Republicans. The Committee's findings were unanimous and show practices that are almost unbelievable. Paragraphs quoted in the Times show that "the FSA was financing communistic resettlement projects, where the families could never own homes or be paid for all they made for all the time they worked, and was supervising its borrowers to the extent of telling the borrower how to raise his children, how to plan his home life, and it is strongly suspected in some cases, how to vote."

The FSA "made loans and grants of Federal funds according to their own wishes and desires, and for just about everything from marriage licenses to burial expenses. They provided funds for the payments of lodge dues and poll taxes, for work stock, tractors and plows and for farm implements of every kind and description. They furnished money with which to buy cows and sows, and feed, seed, fertilizer and for the harvesting and marketing of crops. They provided funds for the purchase of stock in corporations and for the payment of dues in cooperatives. Thousands of families who received financial assistance from the FSA are now much more heavily involved in debt than they were at the time they were taken on the program. . . . Many came on the program owing nothing and are now involved to the government to the extent of $7,000 or $8,000, and have no chance whatever of paying the loan back or at any future time. "Every effort of the agency in furtherance of collective or cooperative farming and its long lease tenure has been a farce and a fizzle and has resulted in heavy losses of Federal funds."

How much longer can the American people afford cradle-to-the-grave planning?

CINEMATIC CHATTER

By Malcolm Miller

The selection of "Somerset"

Maugham's great novel "Christmas Holiday" by the very talented Herman J. Mankiewicz, is brought to the screen of the

Everett theatre this Sunday-

Monday under the best possible circumstances with Deanne Durbin and a comparatively new comer to the cinema, Gene Kelly.

The story is absorbing, with tragedy and love as the principle themes . . . being the love of a

Vermont girl for a working murderer, which only ends in death for both. I'm sure you'll like the new Durbin in this one,

as she has made a complete change in her newest vehicle.

Double feature is the order of the day for Tuesday-Weednesday for the first time. "The Mummy's Ghost," which stars and features John Carradine,

Lon Chaney, Robert Lowery and Barion McLane. This one has no more "credibility than most mysteries of its kind and sticks really well.

"Take, for example, just one industry.

Few people realize the importance of the great work done by the beverage distillers during the war. A high government official called it "an almost unparalleled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war." He also said not so many months ago while speaking about synthetic rubber, "It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry." That's the type of thing I have in mind when I say that the war against Germany at home cooperated to help our brave fighting men abroad.

"I see what you mean, Judge," a complete history of American teamwork."

stared. Barbara Britton does one of her finest pieces of work in this piece, in which she portrays a French courtier girl who leaves her cloistered retreat to aid a British flyer in his escape from the Germans. This one is the best work in drama.

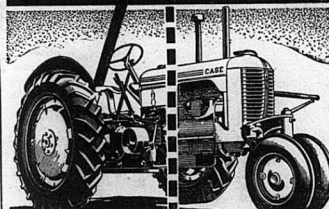

Thursday-Friday also features the double header. First one up is "Twilight On The Prairie," with Eddie Quillan and Vivian Austin. I know you will make up your own mind you're going to like this one when you glance over the names of this clever cast of artistic kids.

It goes without saying that the second picture up will be one of riot of laughter. This one is "Abound with Two Yanks" with William Bendix and Dennis O'Keefe as the Yanks and Helen Walker starred. This piece is decidedly a comedy and one that will provoke roars of laughter.

To Attend Reunion

The annual fall reunion of Lake Worth Consistory, Order of Scottish Rite, will be held at the cathedral in Lake Worth starting this Saturday and Sunday and continuing on the next following week end. Membership in the Consistory in the Glades section has largely increased the past few years and many of the members are planning on being in attendance at the week end reunion ceremonies.

You Can't Tell TRACTOR VALUE FROM THE FRONT ALONE

LOOK What's Back of the Flywheel

A clutch that never seeds greasing, yet is continually oiled by pressure from the engine . . . clutch plates cushioned with oil mist for smoother pickup and far longer life. Transmission, differential, final drive, power take-off, steering gear all in one housing . . . all flood-lubricated with only one oil level to watch. A swinging drawbar that helps swing the tractor around on short turns with full load . . . that locks itself when backing. A pulley where it belongs for easy belting and lining up. All built to run year after year at little or no expense for upkeep. Come in and see this great new Case tractor.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"When this war is all over, Judge, there will be some mighty interesting books written about it. Expect we'll learn a lot of things we didn't know before."

"Yes, Fred, when the record is finally written we'll realize what a gigantic operation this war really was and how important to final victory many factors really were."

"Take, for example, just one industry. Few people realize the importance of the great work done by the beverage distillers during the war. A high government official called it "an almost unparalleled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war." He also said not so many months ago while speaking about synthetic rubber, "It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry." Millions of Long Distance and Toll calls go over Bell System lines every twenty-four hours.

Most of them are handled about as promptly as before the war.

But sometimes there's a crowd on the line and then the pleasant voice of Long Distance will say—"Please limit your call to 5 minutes."

Baptist Revival At South Bay

The revival services at the South Bay Baptist church which started Sunday are continuing all this week and next. Rev. Harold A. Davidson, pastor of the Miami Flagler street Baptist church is the evangelist in charge of the services. He is assisted by Billy Jones of Sebring as pianist and The Rev. David Lynn, pastor.

A daily prayer service at 7:45 is conducted to which boys and girls and young people are especially invited. This immediately precedes the regular service at 8:15. Mr. Jones urges those who have favorite hymns to present a request for that hymn so that it can be sung at that service. The public is invited.

Our boys must keep on fighting—we must keep on buying WAR BONDS until victory is won. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

A Case IN POINT

The Seaboard Railway has claimed for itself the distinction of being a builder wherever we serve. Our friends—patrons of the Railway—have been gracious in confirming that claim.

A case in point is the Seaboard's contribution to recent developments in the pulp and paper industry of the South. For many years, this has been a major project with our Industrial Department. As far back as the 1920's, detailed surveys were made of the best locations for pulp and paper mills, and the cooperation of the local people was enlisted in our efforts to develop the pulp and paper resources of the territory. These efforts have been abundantly rewarded. Several large mills have been located in our territory in recent years and others will no doubt be built in the future.

Many other new enterprises, industrial and agricultural, have been brought in as a result of the Seaboard's cooperation with local communities. The Railway is continuously on the alert for every opportunity to aid in improving the economic lot of its territory.

And so we say with justifiable pride: "A builder wherever we serve."

ing the foot ball field built and seeded so that it can be ready for the opening of the 1945 football season.

Belle Glade wanted a new high school building and got it, it wanted a good coach and foot ball team and got them; it wanted a uniformed school band and is well on the way of getting it; it now wants this proposed new athletic field and is there any one with the temerity to predict that it will not soon be a reality? Gifts to this fund can be deducted from income tax returns, so with all the riches in this section, the $10,000 donation should be a mere bagatelle. Those solicited are requested to make large and liberal donations to this home town project.

Methodists Will

Hold Annual Con-

gregational Election

Rev. J. O. Jameson announces that the annual congregational meeting of the Community Methodist church will be held on Sunday morning, May 6th. At this time there will be the election of church officers, including two trustees for a three year term, stewards and other officers.

The 1944-45 conference year is coming to a close and the reports which will be presented to the Lakeland conference, will be a gratifying and progressive nature, as clings have gone well with the church the past year.

Owing to the government ban on large conventions, the Florida conference at Lakeland will be an abbreviated one, both in duration and attendance, plans now calling for a two day session and the attendance of around 50 key officials and pastors. Thus a large majority of the ministerial and lay members of the conference will not be able to attend the gathering considered the high light of the year.

Lions Enjoy Fine Program By Rev. Carl Moeberg

Lions jammed the dinner table at the Community house on Wednesday for the weekly club session. There was a good deal of roasting at the tables as most of the Lions wanted a change at those delicious viands. Tail-twister Moeley had a grudge against all the men who wore neckties and as a result the fine container had many jingling coins in it.

The club was honored by the presence of two service men who were introduced and answered many questions propounded by the club members, they being James Hodges, torpedo man 316, home from service in the Pacific area and Chief Carroll W. Reddick, of the Navy Carrier force of Cleveland, who also wore the red tie.

The program chairman of the day was Lion Haines who introduced as the entertaining speaker, Rev. Carl Moeberg, pastor of the Baptist church at Pahokee, who as on previous occasions here, gave an enjoyable program. He divided his program, first, Myrtle Anderson, Opal Ernest, Robert Resley, B. Q. Waddell, Philip Enlow, Donald Weeks, and the Rev. and Mrs. I. E. Enlow.

MIRRAPIANOS

The graceful, unique styling built into our fine Mirrapianos preserves their original rich, full, musical tones. The eye sees a small piano but the ear hears that sonorous musical tone that is possible only with adequate string length, and generous sounding board area. The Mirrapiano involves no compromise with tone or touch. The mirrored turret housing the pin plank and tuning pin assembly becomes a traditional room, expanding wall decoration rather than a part of the piano.

We do have a limited number of these fine pianos available for immediate delivery, also some nice thoroughly reconitioned "shipped in" uprights. All fully guaranteed. Terms if desired.

We believe that world conditions today, war with all its attending evils, is the result of unrighteousness. We also believe that the guiding power of God's hand will lead us in our valiant struggle for the right; to a realization of peace, happiness and good will among men.

This is one of the purposes of the Crusade for Christ. In Him there is no color or creed, we are all one. We believe it is the purpose of God to create a world-wide community in Jesus Christ, transcending nation, race and class. The Christian church accordingly is responsible not only to proclaim the divine message, but also to contribute by all means in its power to secure a world order in which God shall have his rightful place, and the basic needs for mankind shall be satisfied. It is to gain this oneness that we invite you to join with us in prayer to God and pause ten minutes daily for scripture reading, prayer and meditation at 7:30 P. M. Eastern War Time.

As a guide for our universal daily worship we have chosen the scriptures designated in the booklet, The Upper Room. If at any time you do not have your Bible at hand to read the designated scripture, then stop for a moment of prayer and meditation and send a thought of blessing, in God's name to our fellow men and thus strengthen the bond of brotherhood and advance the Crusade for Christ.
